

On a daily basis I have been reminded just how supportive our community members and donors can be. That is why I am thrilled to share some exciting news to share with you.

This week, we received two $50,000 donations!

The 407 ETR is donating $50,000 to keep staff and patients safe at Ajax Pickering Hospital. This generous donation will be used to help support the purchase of personal protective equipment, patient critical care equipment, and other items based on the needs of the hospital.

"At 407 ETR, we recognize the increased demand on the healthcare system resulting from the Pandemic," says Kevin Sack, VP of Marketing, Communications and Government Relations, 407 ETR. "We look forward to getting back to normal again one day and we fully recognize that getting there would be impossible without our incredible healthcare community."

We also received a $50,000 donation from Pickering Toyota! For 27 years, this business has been a part of the Durham community. And, in a time when working from home has allowed for a "shorter commute" for many, this local car dealership is blasting its horn in support the frontline healthcare heroes who are still working hard every day to look at their patients at Ajax Pickering Hospital.

"We know that our employees, our clients, our neighbours and our community rely on Ajax Pickering Hospital, and even more so during these abnormal times. And while we are social distancing and cannot physically give them a pat on the back, we want the doctors, nurses, lab techs, pharmacists and all the hospital staff to know that we are right beside them cheering them on."

Every dollar that is donated, every sign that is hung in a window, every car parade around our hospital is loudly telling our staff at Ajax Pickering Hospital that the community is behind them 100%.

As well as being able to fund PPE or other necessary medical equipment needed during Covid-19, both of these donors are also helping us to provide the personal touch that will get both our staff and patients through this pandemic.

Yours in Philanthropy,

Tracy Paterson
CEO, Ajax Pickering Hospital Foundation
